There were 25 settlers on last train, two from Washington, two from Ohio, one from Connecticut, two from Michigan, three from Kansas, five from Ontario, five from Ireland, and five from Norway. Two got off at Gids, two at Red Deer, three at Lacombe, five at Wataski and eight came through to Edmonton.

FRANK MURPHY, who went to the Athabasca some weeks ago, returned with his outfit on Tuesday. On leaving here he went to Fort Assiniboine and prospected all the way down the Athabasca to the Landing. He says they never found pay dirt at any place between the two points. He intends starting again on this river as soon as he can get his cow and machinery in shape.

FRANK MORAN gave us a friendly call while in town this week and expressed his personal thanks for the appointment of Mr. Leppage as J. P. at Beaumont, as it was absolutely necessary that there should be some one there to take affidavits. While here Father Moran has collected samples of all kinds of grain and vegetables grown in the district, among which are a fine sample of tobacco and some ripe tomatoes. He leaves for home on tomorrow's train and intends the samples for the Montreal exhibition.

ED. NADEL, trader, arrived in town on Tuesday from Fort Resolution. He left his outfit with the fur between here and the Landing coming in. He reports that he did a good season's business and has a large lot of fur. On his way going down the river he encountered heavy forest fires he took Grand Rapids and Fort McMurray, and says while on the way down he saw large quantities of coal tar flowing down the river. There are several places along the banks of the river where coal tar is creeping out near Fort McMurray and Nadel mentions one place where they stopped and got some to tar their boats with. He thinks the location where the government are testing for coal oil is too far up the river by 180 miles.

The latest thing in town is the sign of the Royal Standard cigar store at R. Foster's.

Bessant; "Waltz," "Alicia," J. H. Hyde; "Galop," "Dismore," Harry Walker; "March," "Intro Quickstep," H. L. Clarke; "Serenade," "Waves of Memory," E. A. Blanchard; "National melody," C. W. Bennett; "God Save the Queen."

On the 23rd of July last, Mrs. Bush with her son Charles left here for Toronto, where they went to consult with the specialists there, in regard to Charles's illness. He had been sick for years with spinal disease, and latterly he got so much worse, that this course was considered necessary. After their arrival there, the best medical aid was procured, but he gradually became worse and passed away on Sunday the 1st inst. He was buried at Coldwater on Tuesday. Mrs. Bush is expected home in a few days.

J. W. KINCARD, of Dublin, Ireland, who came in on last train gave us a call on Wednesday. He came to this country principally to inspect some mining claims in the Kootenay country near Rossland in which he is largely interested. Mr. Kincard is a well-to-do real estate dealer in Dublin and has frequent enquiries from intending emigrants and while in this country on other business is trying to obtain some personal knowledge of the country, so that he can give them information from personal observation. He is much pleased with this part of the country.

The men who have been out with Nadel at his trading posts arrived in town yesterday afternoon, with the exception of Geo. Slater and Wm. Clarke, who remain at Fort McMurray, and Campbell Young, who is at Fort Resolution. The following are the names of those who returned: Wm. Patton, John McLean, J. Sheedy, J. Lehman, A. Costello, Alex. Brown, Wm. Gutteridge, Jas. Lander, M. Matheson, Wm. Smith, J. Secord and F. Groat. There were no teams available at the Landing when they got there with the furs, and R. Secord remained until teams could be sent from here. They will arrive in about five days.

R. S. McDONALD, of Fort Saskatchewan, who had his preliminary trial before Insp. Howard on a charge of taking money for his own use belonging to the firm of Ross & Morel, was discharged on Monday, there being no evidence to commit. Ross & Morel stated that they employed him to trade down the river with miners as far as Fort Pitt and that McDonald went on to Battledore and they had him arrested on information received from their. The defence was that he had bought the goods and was selling them on his own account. Mr. McDonald is entering an action against Ross & Morel for false imprisonment. In our last issue we stated that McDonald was on a spree at Battledore but the evidence showed that he was not.

At a reception given Commandant Booth on his return to Toronto, after his trip to Edmonton, to spy out the land for the proposed new sea colony, the Commandant said: "The investigation party had struck on a beautiful country, and would be able to present a very hopeful and favorable report to the General for his decision. There was coal, gold, water, and immense expanses of richly prolific land. The party had interviewed very many people, from the lieutenant-governor downwards, and not a dissenting voice was found amongst them all, on the contrary, the greatest sympathetic interest was still manifested in the scheme, the same as when the General was here. At Edmonton, the town nearest the land explored, an illuminated address, signed by the municipal authorities, was read to them by the clerk. An escort of cowboys accompanied them for fourteen days. They found land enough to stow England away fifteen or sixteen times, and to comfortably support half the population of Europe."

R. L. ALEXANDER, government immigration agent, remained over from last train and went out to Stony Plain on Tuesday and to Clover Bar yesterday looking for samples of grain and roots to send to Washington; and found some very fine samples in each district. He has samples of two, four, and six rowed barley, Ladago and red fife wheat, two kinds of white oats, six kinds of grasses, the wild pea-vine and vetch. He also has some good samples of cabbages, carrots, parsnips, turnips and potatoes. While out he got several shovels of oats and wheat just as they were dropped from the loader and they are not touched by the frost. He showed us a sheaf of wheat cut yesterday on Wm. Daly's farm that was well filled, ripe and apparently free from frost. Mr. Daly had sown this piece on the 15th of May intending it for feed, but it filled so well, and was so matured, that he will now thresh it and think it will be a good average crop. Mr. Alexander goes south by next train taking his samples with him.

R. FOSTER has introduced a fine line of cigars and tobaccos in connection with his barber shop.

Mrs. JOHN OWENS and son, of Pine Creek, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross in town at present.

ARCHIE CAMERON returned on Tuesday from the Athabasca gold diggings, where he spent about three weeks prospecting. He says miners are making from 50 cents to $1.00 per day by hard work. Several miners who left here about three months ago had only made about $25. There is a large number now on the way back who intend to try their luck on the Saskatchewan again.

BRIGADIER CLIBBORN left this week for Limestone lake to examine that part of the country more thoroughly. He is well pleased with the country and after driving over a large tract of country is now making a closer inspection so as to be able to decide which is the best location for the proposed over sea colony before making his final report to headquarters.

ALEX. TAYLOR, proprietor of the Edmonton Telephone Co., has engaged Mr. Lee, a qualified electrician, to take full charge. He is now busily engaged replacing the old poles with much higher ones, which are built so as to accommodate a large number of wires. This will make a vast improvement, as it thus removes the wires free from all contact with the electric light wires, business signs, and other obstructions.

THE BRICKLAYERS' STRIKE.

The bricklayers of this place went out on strike on Tuesday. The strikers claim that they went to work supposing that they would be paid the going wages, which they claim has been from $4 to $5 per day, and fearing yesterday morning that the contractors were only intending to pay from $2.75 to $3.25, they demanded a settlement, and finding they were to be paid off at the latter rates, they quit work in a body. To-day they are all off work and building is at a standstill with the exception of what the contractors can do themselves, and they demand $4.50 per day before going to work again.

The contractors claim that the going wages has been from $2.00 to $3.50 per day and not from $4 to $5 as stated by the strikers. They also say that they have been paying some of their best men at those prices, and that they were satisfied and that some of the men still wished to work but are afraid to do so on account of threats from the others. They do not consider that any of the strikers are worth the amount they demand and say that they can do all the work they have on hand themselves without any assistance from the strikers.

WHEAT AND PROTECTION.
A few issues ago the BULLETIN drew attention to the golden opportunity now existing for the friends and moulders of the protective policy to show its value to the farmers in elevating the price of wheat. The same opportunity unfortunately exists as to the price of wheat. Only a few weeks ago wheat was selling in Manitoba at 70c to 80c a bushel; and the friends of protection, in this case the great millers who had made thousands by the rise, said to the farmers: "Behold how the national policy has elevated the price of wheat; the national policy is the farmers' friend." That was when the farmer had very little wheat to sell. Now the Manitoba farmer has more wheat to sell than ever before and the price is 42c to 44c. Where is the national policy—the farmers' policy—now? Now is the time for its friends to show its virtue. Let a special session of parliament be summoned if necessary and the protective tariff on wheat be increased to any extent if it will only raise the farmers' price to a profitable figure. But no one knows better than the friends of so-called protection that if the duty was increased it would not increase the price of wheat to the western farmer as long as there is a large surplus for export. As Premier Bowell took care to inform the people here, the price of wheat is controlled by the world's competition in the open market of Great Britain—without any reference to the Canadian tariff whether high or low. But had not the protective tariff an effect in raising the price of wheat and flour during the past few months as its friends claimed? Certainly it had. At a time when the Canadian crop of the previous season was practically sold out of the farmers' hands, the protective policy enabled the great millers and grain speculators in whose hands a great deal of it still remained to levy on the Canadian consumer an extra price equal to the protection (it) allowed by the tariff. The protective tariff then, judged by the events of the past six months—and its friends clamored for judgment upon it—does not raise the price of wheat to the Canadian producer, but it enables the monopolist on occasion to raise the price of flour made from that wheat to the Canadian consumer—or in other words that the so-called national policy is a policy of the protection of monopoly and not of industry.

EXHIBITION ECHOES.
The speech of His Honor Lieutenant-governor Mackintosh at the opening of the Northwest assembly covers a good deal of ground. One reason no doubt is that His Honor speaks in a dual capacity; as lieutenant-governor of the Territories and as manager of the Territorial exhibition. No doubt the measure of success attained by the fair was such as to warrant reference to it even at considerable length, and no person will go into hair splitting arguments as to whether the terms in which the allusions are made are altogether justified by the facts or not.
The fair is over. It was an enterprise of the Dominion government, undertaken at the suggestion and under the management of His Honor and as the failure if it were a failure would properly be chargeable to the government and the governor; so, in so far as it has been a success, they are entitled to full credit. However much others may have assisted, and thereby become deserving of secondary honors, the lieutenant-governor and the government which placed the foundation sum at his disposal are entitled to divide the first honors between them.

When this is conceded, as it must be by all fair minded people, the natural conclusion follows that those who were to blame if there was failure, who were entitled to all credit if there was success, who instigated and controlled the expenditure, should have the privilege of paying all the bills. If it is a fact, as has been hinted by the Regina Leader, that the management of the fair is short of money to complete the payment of accounts incurred, in the natural course of events the money must be found by those responsible for the existence and conduct of the fair and for the expenditures connected with it.
The Leader intimated that the Northwest assembly would be asked to contribute another $5,000 towards those expenses, and certain paragraphs in His Honor's speech would lead to an inference that something of the kind is in view. He intimates that the exhibition buildings can at all times be used for local and general purposes. If it was intended by the management to donate these buildings to the local government, and the town of Regina—or either of them—in the consideration of the liberal assistance already given by them to the fair, it would have been quite in order to have said so in the addresses. When that very natural and proper course was not indicated it is not likely to be adopted. And the most natural alternative inference is, to sell the property to the government, or the town, or both, as a means of reducing the supposable deficit. If the town of Regina should see fit to buy the buildings, that would be its own business; but if the funds of the Northwest government are likely to be used in that way the matter is of interest to every part of the Territories, and the BULLETIN must very definitely protest against it. Not that there is any desire to deny the fair or deny the possibility of good results from it, but simply as a matter of straight business. While it may have been all right for the late assembly to contribute $5,000 to an enterprise in which they had no part, when the exhibition has been held and,— whether from miscalculation or mismanagement by those responsible for it—a shortage is found in the funds, no imaginable reason of propriety or policy can be given for the Territorial funds being taxed with the shortage or any part of it. There are other purposes of pressing necessity for which every dollar of the scanty revenues of the Territories are needed in the line of improving the condition of the settlers and it is not business to use any part of the money so urgently needed to pay off debts incurred by either miscalculation or mismanagement of an affair for which the people of the Territories did not ask and the legislature of the Territories was in no way responsible.
Almost every year the Territorial legislature has pressed upon the Dominion government the need of more money for absolute necessities; but if money that was voted by parliament to meet absolute necessities is diverted so far from the purpose for which it was voted with the consent of the legislature, it will be used as an argument against the need of a further increase in the parliamentary vote to the Territories. If we make it appear that we have money to squander in making up deficits for which we are not responsible, we can scarcely make out a good case for the needed increase in our ordinary funds.
It is particularly inopportune that this demand should be made—if it is made—in a year when the treasury of the Territories has been called upon to bear the strain of the relief works for which the Dominion government refused to provide, although it could supply plenty of money—as was then supposed—to carry the fair to a successful conclusion. By the sharp practice—on one side—the treasury of the Territories was saddled with the one burden, that properly should have been borne by the Dominion, it is for the legislature to see that it is not saddled with another which it has even less right to bear.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.
THURSDAY, Sept. 5th, '95.
Several motions for returns were passed.
The bill respecting alimony, introduced by Mr. Haultain, was read a second time. The bill gives the supreme court of the Northwest jurisdiction to grant alimony to any wife who would be entitled to alimony by the law of England, or who would be entitled under that law to divorce and alimony, or who would be entitled to a decree for the restoration of conjugal rights.
Mr. Haultain's bill respecting commissioners to make enquires concerning public matters, was read a second time.
The ordinance gives a commissioner of enquiry appointed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council the powers of a court of record as to enforcing the attendance of witnesses, and otherwise.
Haultain's bill respecting the legislative assembly was considered in committee of the whole and progress reported. The bill fixes the quorum of the assembly at 10; defines the duties of speaker and deputy speaker, the latter being permanent chairman of committee of the whole; the salary of the speaker which is fixed as before at $500 a session; the indemnity to members which is also fixed as before at $500 a session; penalty of $10 a day for absence from the assembly except in case of sickness; methods of resigning from the assembly; provisions for the production of papers and examination of witnesses by the house or its committees, and the electoral districts and their boundaries. The need of the provisions regarding the speaker's salary and members indemnity arose from the fact that these matters which formerly were provided for in the Northwest Act were last session placed under the control of the assembly.
The boundaries of the electoral districts were not changed from those already existing, except to remedy one or two trifling mistakes.
FRIDAY, Sept. 6th, '95.
Haultain introduced a bill to provide for the better auditing of the public accounts of the Territories.
Neff introduced a bill to amend and consolidate as amended the statute labor and fire district ordinance.
Haultain's bill to amend and consolidate the law relating to mortgages and sales of personal property was read a second time. A bill to amend the same ordinance, introduced by Mr.
Gillis, which came up for second reading to-day also, was allowed to stand for incorporation in Mr. Haultain's consolidation. Mr. Haultain's bill extends to fourteen pages and if passed will be called the Bills of Sale ordinance. The present registration districts and clerks are continued, and vacancies in the clerkships filled by lieutenant-governor-in-council. Every mortgage or conveyance intended to operate as a mortgage of goods and chattels, which is not accompanied by an immediate delivery, and an actual and continued change of possession of the things mortgaged, must be registered within thirty days, together with the affidavit of bona fides of the mortgagee and also of a witness.
The mortgage takes effect from the day of filing. A mortgage to secure future advances or to indemnify endorsers, etc., is to be valid if duly registered.
Lien notes must be accompanied by affidavits as in the case of chattel mortgages and must be registered within fifteen days. Registration is only effective within the registration district where made. If the mortgage or lien note is not registered or the consideration is not duly expressed it is void against other creditors of the mortgagor. The description of the property must be full and sufficient. In case of an assignment for the general benefit of creditors the following description will be sufficient. "All my personal property which may be seized and sold under execution." Mortgages must be registered in the registration district in which the property is situated.
A mortgage ceases to be valid after two years, unless renewed, and must be renewed yearly after the first two years. In

copies with certificate 10c per hundred words, partial discharge 50c. The bill is subject to amendments in committee. Mr. Gillis' bill prohibits the mortgaging of growing crops—as well as crops to be grown—except for seed grain. Mr. Ross' amendments to the municipal bill provide for a number of omissions and makes a number of corrections in last year's bill. The qualifications of voters is proposed to be defined as to men, unmarried women and widows over twenty-one years of age assessed for income or personal property for $200 or upwards. Married men may vote upon property held by their wives. All taxes must be paid before voting. It is proposed to extend the exemptions so that the annual income of any person derived from his personal earnings shall be exempt to the amount of $700. Also rental or other income derived from real estate, except interest on mortgages. Also churches and the land in connection therewith not exceeding half an acre. The general question of income tax is dealt with in the following subsection of section 2 part 4 of the present ordinance: "No person deriving an income exceeding $500 per annum from any trade, calling, office, profession or other source whatsoever, not declared exempt by this ordinance, shall be assessed for a less sum as the amount of his net personal property, than the amount of such income during the year then last past, in excess of the said sum of $500, but no deduction shall be made from the gross amount of such income by reason of such indebtedness save such as is equal to the annual interest thereon, and such last year's income in excess of the said sum of $500 shall be held to be his net personal property unless he has other personal property liable to assessment, in which case such excess and other personal property shall be added together and constitute his personal property liable to assessment."

This bill has not yet been considered in committee and possibly other important amendments may be introduced, and these amendments modified.

A GOOD CHOICE.

We are not surprised to find that the news of the virtual appointment of Lord Wolseley to the post of Commander-in-Chief of the British army has been gladly welcomed by men of all parties in both Great Britain and the Colonies. Lord Wolseley is a soldier by profession. He has seen service in many lands and has won promotion and honors by his ability and his courage. It is only right and reasonable that the man at the head of the British Army should be a veteran who has proved himself to be well versed in everything pertaining to the organization of the army, as well as to what it requires when engaged in actual warfare. It will be indeed singular if the British army is not greatly benefited by having at its head a man who understands military science and who has earned distinction in the field. An amateur, let him be ever so able and zealous, and let him have the advice of the best practical men, cannot be expected to do work which requires for its proper performance all the knowledge and all the ability of the most eminent man in his profession. The promotion of Lord Wolseley will no doubt be popular, but it will be more than popular and better than popular—it will be right.—The Colonist.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

John Collins, the teamster, who broke his neck some time ago in falling from a wagon, and who has been under Dr. Simpson's care at the St. Boniface hospital ever since, is still progressing favorably, says the Free Press. A medical practitioner from Rochester, who has lately been viewing the case, and who travelled over three thousand miles a few years ago to investigate a cervical fracture of the same nature in the States, says that this is the second case only of the kind in America which has proved successful. The proportion of the chances is one hundred thousand to one against the patient. Collins is doing well, however, and is now taking more solid food. He talks and eats freely and sleeps normally. It is a remarkable case, and has aroused much interest among the profession. Some time ago he moved in his plaster of paris cast for his head and neck, and had to be refitted. There is every reason to hope that he will be about again in a few months.

GENERAL NEWS.

Right Hon. Joe. Chamberlain, member of the new British cabinet, has fore-shadowed a vigorous colonial policy in a speech in parliament. The idea conveyed is, that the imperial government should assist more actively and in a practical manner in the development of the colonies. The object sought of course, is the trade advantage the mother country would have in the colonies. Mr. Chamberlain represents the great manufacturing centre of Birmingham, and he is well known as a man of push and original ideas of a practical nature. It is understood that as head of the colonial department in the new government he will bring forth a vigorous policy on new lines, calculated to assist and develop the colonies, and at the same time extend British trade influence.—Commercial.

In speaking of the Premier's trip from here to Prince Albert by rail, the Battleford Herald says: In making this trip the party will see a country covered by railway charters and occupied by a few settlers who went "ahead of the railway" a decade ago, deluded into the belief that the road would be ready to carry out their products as soon as they were ready. The country is a grand one, the settlers are enterprising; the railway far off in the future. But seeing the country for themselves, the legislators will be able to speak intelligently on the necessity of pushing through the railways already chartered, or compelling them to give way to others that will.

British Columbia exchanges of the 6th inst. say: Two very valuable saddle horses belonging to their excellencies the Governor-General and Countess Aberdeen, were literally steamed to death yesterday. The horses were on their way to the Governor-General's Okanagan ranch. Steam fittings were placed in the car for the purpose of regulating the temperature, and the necessary steam cock was inadvertently left off. After an hour and a half run from Vancouver, it was noticed that something was wrong with the steam, and on the car, where the animals were stalled, being opened, both animals were found dead on the floor. The horses were thoroughbred animals, one horse belonging to the Countess was considered the best in Canada of its kind.

The law firm of Costigan, McCaul & Bangs, Calgary, have dissolved partnership, but the separate members will still continue to practice law in Calgary. Mr. McCaul, together with Mr. Jas. Short, who recently passed his final examination, will practice as a firm. Mr. J. R. Costigan has secured for himself offices in the Clarence block. Mr. P. McCarthy and Mr. J. A. Bangs have formed a law partnership under the firm name and style of McCarthy & Bangs, and will occupy the late offices of the defunct firm.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Cochrane, of the Cochrane Ranch, spent several days in town this week. Mr. Cochrane was superintending the receiving of a train-load of young cattle shipped in from Ontario.—Lethbridge News.

The Colonist monthly journal devoted to the immigration interests of the Northwest has again changed hands, owing to the death of Mr. Alexander Smith, the managing partner. The business has been taken over from his heirs by James E. Steen his parent and has since been transferred and sold to Mr. H. Sidney White, who will be sole proprietor and publisher, while Mr. James E. Steen will still retain the position of editorial manager.

The Ontario department has of agriculture issued a pamphlet on grasses. A brief description is given of a long list of grasses, with their common and scientific names, and the nature of cultivation to which they are best adapted. No doubt many of these grasses would do well in Manitoba and the North West. The pamphlet is one which should prove interesting to farmers here as the cultivation of grasses will necessarily come into more general use here, for as settlement extends the native prairie meadows will prove insufficient to meet requirements.

The North-west Territories Gazette has the following proclamation in reference to the Belmont school district: That from on and after the 2nd day of January, 1895, the "School District of Belmont Protestant Public School District No. 32 of the North-west Territories" shall be divided into two Districts as follows, that is to say, the first District shall consist of Sections 12, 14, 23, 24, 25, 26, 35, 36 and the East halves of sections 15, 22, 27 and 34, in Township 53, Range 24; Sections 31, 32, the West half of 33, and those portions of 18, 19, 29, 30 and the N. W. quarter of 28 lying West and North of the Saskatchewan River in Township 53, Range 23, all West of the Fourth Meridian; and also River Lots 24 to 42, inclusive of the special survey of the Edmonton Settlement, and shall be known under the corporate name of "The School District of Belmont Protestant public school district No. 23 of the North-west Territories." And the second District shall consist of the West half of Sections 15, 22, 27 and 34 and the whole of Sections 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32 and 33 in Township 53, Range 24, West of the Fourth Meridian and shall be known under the corporate name of "The Turnip Lake Public School District No. 386 of the North-west Territories."
